The Founder Is Gone

Writer: Internal Affairs Supervisor Johnwickforlife

"The Founder, NolanCulper, has been inconsiderate and acting in bad faith with the Congress; Senate, Supreme Council, Central executive Committee, Vice Chancellor, and High Chancellor. The Grand Congress will be taking up the mantle of leadership and a member of the Congress will be appointed 1IC, as First Consul.

The Founder has discarded our advice and has treated the Congress unfairly. While the Congress does all the work (Building, Scripting, Management, Diplomacy), the Founder, for example, goes off to spend 1000 robux to annex an irrelevant 40 member group. Whilst demanding his orders to be followed, without the council being allowed to interfere nor voice their opinions. We decided to present our Grand Charter to the Founder first, but as we wrote it, we realized that he would not accept any of the important points and we had to take drastic action.

We do thank him for what he has done for us, and the time he spent with us over the years. However, his time is at an end. We regret that it had to be done in this way, but it was necessary for our group's survival. We did all of this with every single one of you in consideration. We value your hard work and time just as much as we value our own. Unfortunately, this was not the case for the Founder."

On May 20th, 2021 a historical moment for the Allies within the ROBLOX WWII community occurred in the act of which the former Founder of The Grand Western Ascendancy, NolanCulper (Nerferdude) was overthrown by the Grand Congress of the Ascendancy. Actions that happened on this date have caused confusion, rebellion, and diplomatic affairs that have stirred up politics from domestic to foreign.

Within the Congress including mostly Central Executive Committee and Supreme Council personnel, an act, or a "coup" as Nolan and his supporters called it, happened in action due to ideas regarding the fact that Nolan disregarded the institution of friendship and the abuse of the Chain of Command as well as the the wasteful spending of group funds. A few CEC and SC members have disagreed with the way the action was handled, but within the Ascendancy we recognize Nolan's contribution to the Allied cause and his effort for it. As a state declaration TGWA will not punish those who feel sympathy for Nolan or support him, but will take action for those who take position as a nuisance or enemy of the nation. The High Chancellor and the Vice Chancellor have not taken this action without caution and heavy consideration. Both agreed after extreme application that it was the best course of action to protect the nation and keep the Ascendancy alive.
As an official claim, The Grand Charter was compiled by Congress with a list of grievances by said High Command members and a commissioning policy based on the events.

A bill of objection towards the former Founder includes reports of wasteful spending of group funds, ignorance of the hard work that the Vice Chancellor has put in, disregarding friendship and much more. " He's become the one thing he wanted to destroy, authoritarian. Entitled to his position because he's blinded by his ego and OUR success, not his alone." -The Vice Chancellor in the Grand Charter. Supreme Commander of the Armed Forces, "Whenever he wants something, he will go through any means necessary to get what he wants." SnekCulper, "Nerfer has called for impromptu SC meetings adding unnecessary topics to a conversation, cluttering and confusing the ongoing conversations." Chief Scripter, Axen, "Nerfer distracts me from important work that I am overwhelmed with by constantly pestering me about adding stuff that is unneeded at the time of the request or stuff that he can do himself (ex. Adding MP uniforms) as well as about fixing minuscule issues that only affect him and or one or two other members (ex. Fixing not being able to unequip gadgets)" Minister of Information, Samsy19, stated,

"During a meeting, Nerfer refused to even listen to my opinion because I'd been in the group for only two months despite being a member of the senate by merit and minister of information at the time. It made me question why I was in the meeting at all, made me stop thinking about things to add to the discussion."

NolanCulper is using the Allied Veterans Discord server as a temporary "anti-coup" communication. At around 6:00 PM EST on 5/20/2021 he spoke on behalf of his supporters in a Voice call addressing the topic. Included in his statement he initially goes over the DM's with him and the Vice Chancellor and gives his side of the spectrum publicly. He defends the idea of the Chain of Command and how "friends are not supposed to be in the same work environment as one another.", addressing the idea of how he ignored friendship over the chain of command. He one by one addresses the grievances by said individuals in the Grand Charter and debates some, and agrees with some. It is shown that he is compiling a document of a response to all the grievances listed by all the people who stated them. Nolan ends with statements of how it will pain him to log onto the nerferdude discord account and he will not start another group. "I am graduating college and need to focus on my life." He emphasizes on how ROBLOX is not near as important as your real life, however this could be also in response to the allegations of him disregarding certain people's time zones and real life schedules for his own accord.

(For more information don't hesitate to view the Grand Charter.)

Amerikenski Retires

Amerikenski Retires
A known and loved member of the Ascendancy, Amerkienski retired on 5/ 22/ 2021. Being with us since USM in 2017, he has contributed happiness and laughs within VC as well as a relationship with several members.
When asked about a final remark Ameriken responded with, "Sucks to suck".

Internal Affairs

An Interview With the First Consul

Interviewer: Internal Supervisor JohnwickCulper

Reporter: Good morning, Mr. Consul, on behalf of the Western Times, are you able to spend a bit of your time answering some questions?

Consul_Alexander : I am able if you are.

Reporter: Sounds good.

Reporter: So, what are your ideas and aspirations as 1st In Command of TGWA?

Consul_Alexander: Well, off the bat: I've been chosen by Congress AND Nerfer. So my first priority is reconciling the group, and bringing about unity. I want people to contact me about their concerns and grievances and I will seek to address them through Congress. This has been a challenging and difficult time. But I also think we need to look towards the future: v3 of the map is coming out with all sorts of exciting stuff; diplomacy has been opening up for a while and we're in talks to get a few more allies; we're going to make big changes to how NCO system works and some of the ranks; we're wanting to flesh out and expand the medal and award system; we're going to bring back the fireside chats; and like a lot lot more. So in the coming days, we're going to have a big proclamation of like what Western Ascendancy is going to look like in the future and I think it's really positive

Reporter: What do you want to do as First Consul?

Consul_Alexander: Mediate the two factions; bring unity to the group; work with congress to announce some of the more ambitious and fun reforms

Reporter: How are you going to address the conflicting ideas of the pressing issues at hand

Consul_Alexander: Nerfer has asked people in AVA to send me their concerns, petitions and ask for help; I'll address them, and will assist as I can. At the end of the day, this is one big family. It might be under duress and bad blood has emerged, but we have far more in common than what divides us. There'll be no purges or censorship; people are allowed to feel regret for what happened. It'll take time, but we'll try and work out everyone's individual grievances in Congress.

Reporter: What is your opinion on the matter?

Consul_Alexander: I wasn't involved in the dispute. I found out just before Nerfer did. I phoned Nerfer immediately and was the one who informed him, and was in a call with him most of the day. I tried to mediate between the two sides, and hoped for an amicable agreement. The whole thing is regrettable. It's been a build up of issues and disagreements that has bubbled over. I am good friends with Nerfer and all of Congress. I think what's done has been done, and we'll have to move forward

Reporter: How will you integrate trust and loyalty to yourself?

Consul_Alexander: I've been with you guys for 10 years, but I've not been as visible as Karolus and Jon and Nerfer. I've been in the background, mediating and smoothing things out. I realize I've been chosen, not as the popular candidate, but the candidate nobody disagrees with. So I'll try to earn the trust and respect of the wider group. I'll try to engage with folks and be involved much, much more. I'll reply to any messages given to me. I'll try and raise folk's concerns with the hi-coms and the likes. I'll join in raids and game nights more often. But I'm not a Nerfer: I don't intend to fill those boots. This is a different sort of leadership, working alongside Congress. But I'll try my hardest to earn the title. If I don't think I'm succeeding, I will consider my options. You should only really do a job, IMO, if you feel like you're adding value. And I'll try to bring as much value to the group as I can. Also, as an aside for like my previous achievements I've run the allied cause's intelligence several times; in USM, with Nerfer, I was head of the navy and chief of staff on several occasions. I've been foreign minister in a whole bunch of settings. I once was the British allied leader for things like SHAEF. Other than that, I've run several successful town groups. With MikhailGorbachev, I co-founded the town of St Paul. Privately, I ran political-WWII themed towns like Burghausen and Chartreuse. Prior to joining the allied cause, I was an admiral in Alversian Peoples' Navy, a former super-clan that once rivaled FEAR (and they named one of their forts after me--Necronites). So y'know, people don't have to worry in terms of my experience. I've led 15k and more groups before. I'm well acquainted with like military matters, civilian matters, foreign policy, intelligence, etc. But more than that, this is a new era where Congress, collectively, decides most of the issues. So it won't be just my experience, but all the other hi-coms you already know and trust. Oh, fun fact aside, though totally irrelevant, I founded the first colonial themed clan, the Validus Empire, in Feb 2010. So also had tons of experience in that, but that's just an aside I made the colonial community; I helped shape and build the town community; and I was there at the founding of the WWII community, and god knows how many Roman groups I've restructured as well, big super clans of 50k people. I'm reasonably well versed on classics, so I was often brought in as like a historical advisor. Point is, I think I'm qualified lol, But I do need to earn trust and respect

Reporter: Are we still at war with anyone since the enemies in the ROBLOX group are vacant?

Consul_Alexander: I think foreign affairs are going to re-evaluate our priorities on that. Though Congress has left the allied cause officially, I've insisted we keep fighting neo-nazis and the axis, as our natural enemies. Nobody disagrees with that--we will keep fighting those folks. I think we'll be more flexible on neutral and smaller nations though. Overall, our concerns are the big boys, so to speak. But like, overall, our priority for raids is more friendly and more organised raids and getting us more allies. But there will be nations back on the enemy list at some point maybe, we just need to plan a bit more. I think also there's the concern, btw, on the enemies, that if we make them enemies, btw, we promote them. So we don't want to promote them on our page. That's a big concern for us

Reporter: Will there be any changes of how the corps or the army is run?

Consul_Alexander: Not that I am aware of. I think we'll have a few rank changes in the main group, and maybe a few aesthetic changes. I know the NCOs system is being re-worked. I think the key is a lot is going well, and we just need to reinforce and improve what we have going on atm. We'll add new corps as the group grows, etc

Reporter: You say aesthetic changes?

Consul_Alexander: Not anything major. Like we won't change entire uniforms or anything. We're just tweaking some themes. That's currently being discussed in Congress atm. Just we're going for a sort of revolutionary republic---France and America primarily---sort of vibe

Reporter: Ah, I see. With the new change of leadership, will there be new administrative positions?

Consul_Alexander: Yeah, I mean, one thing we're looking at is V3 of the map has a much more expanded town. It's been a big ambition for us to have more of a civilian element. Cause like, a lot of soldiers hang about the town---can't be fighting all the time. So I think the civilian aspect will really open up, and there'll be a lot of businesses, clubs, maybe a bit of politics. I think there'll then be government jobs reflecting that eventually. It'll take time, but that's what we're working towards.

Reporter: was that to the aesthetic changes or the leadership one

Consul_Alexander: Leadership one. Like, we're wanting like an expanded government basically

Reporter: I see.

Consul_Alexander: Like, we might have ministries and departments and stuff covering more areas.
I have no plans atm for anything like "office of the consul" or even having a secretary---I'm a low maintenance guy lol

Reporter:And the last question for today, Mr Consul, will the policy of no harm to people who support nerfer just harm to the people who take initiative against the ascendancy stay in place?

Consul_Alexander: Yes. There was an attempt to draw up "lists of names", and I vetoed it. A lot of people are saddened by Nerfer leaving. That isn't a crime. If it is, I am on the list too lol. Only folks who try to harm the group need to be punished, Nerfer said to his supporters in AVA last night 1. stay in TGWA and 2. support me as Consul, and I'll help them. I intend to keep my promises to Nerfer and his supporters, that I'll try to address their grievances and help mediate

Reporter: Thank you for your time, Mr. Consul. I wish you luck in your future endeavors as 1IC and hope the Ascendancy will recover from this quickly.

Consul_Alexander: Thank you, always a pleasure---keep in touch, and I'll try to answer questions as quickly as I can

The Founder Takes Back Control

Interviewer : Internal Supervisor JohnwickCulper

Only three days after the revolution took place, NolanCulper took control back to the Ascendancy. An interview with him regarding the subject:

Interviewer: Good morning, on behalf of the western times, may I take a bit of your time?

Nolan: You may.

Interviewer: So it appears that you have taken control back of TGWA?

Nolan: I have

Interviewer: And it also appears you have removed Karolus, and Jon from power. as well as those who listed grievances against you?

Nolan: I am willing to listen to the Congress just like I have done before, however, I will not be removed from the very group and cause in which I created. If they are truly my friends, and if this was actually a disagreement over certain actions in the group and not a mere hatred or contempt of me, then it's possible for us to work this out. This is all based on what "Congress" has said, so we will see if they were lying or actually telling the truth about their disagreements.

Interviewer: I see, what will you do now with the ROBLOX group under your control? Will you turn it into a memorial or continue operations under your control?

Nolan: If we meet and they agree with my terms and agree to stay, then it can continue. If not, and if they choose to abandon the group because they didn't get their own way, then they are doing all of you a disservice, and I will have no choice but to memorialize it.

Interviewer: And if they do agree with your terms, how will the leadership change as several SC and CEC members are no longer in power?

Nolan: That I cannot answer at this time.

Interviewer: What will you do with the underlying fact that Jon and Karolus may take all the active members along with Axen and other leadership personnel and simply move them into another group?

Nolan: Then it will show that it was never about reforms.

Interviewer: And if the Grand Congress does not agree with your terms leading to you memorializing it and ending TGWA's reign, arguably one of the most successful groups of yours, what will happen to all those who served for you, current and active members? Will you just leave them group-less like that?

Nolan: It won't be me leaving them. It will be the Congress leaving them. Them abandoning the group because they are being that low, that low to not even have any superior to answer to.
They would be the ones abandoning the Ascendancy and its people.

Interviewer: You say that it will be the Congress' fault but aren't you the one who is pressing these concerns and are these actions just to preserve your legacy?

Nolan : (No response)

Swiss Raid

Writer: Internal Affairs Staff Tjrebell

On May 22nd, 2021, The Grand Western Ascendancy and the Schweiz Armee held a raid, at both group's raid maps. This was a significant raid, due to it being the first raid since the Ascendancy's revolution, and the last raid with Amerikenski, now former Commanding Officer of the 1st Marine Regiment. If you are reading this Amerikenski, thank you for your service.The first half of the raid took place at The Western Frontier. For the raid, around 25 Ascendancy personnel were rallied, and 20 Swiss soldiers came to attack. During the raid, the MP defended point B, the Marines defended point A, and the Airborne reinforced both. Early in the battle, the Airborne switched to the raider team to help out the outnumbered Swiss. Eventually, the Swiss flanked the Marine defenders and held A for a short while, but the Marines launched a counterattack and liberated the village at A from the swiss. The Ascendancy then won the defensive battle, and the offensive battle started at the Swiss map "Defense of the Alps". Upon the Ascendancy ranking in their camp, someone threw a grenade at the Marines, knowing that grenades could teamkill, and many Marines died. When the battle started, the Ascendancy found that the map had very impacting issues. The defensive side had a considerably superior strategic defensive advantage, being on a huge hill overlooking an empty field with a few trenches, as opposed to the aggressive side which had barely any cover. A major bug with the game would occur randomly when you died, causing the game to lock itself at 2 fps until you rejoined the game, forcing you to reset your kda. The Swiss fought valiantly and succeeded in defending their home base.

Noskin1119 - A Story of the Shortest-Lived Warrant Officer

Writer: CodexTextsYT

Noskin was promoted to Warrant Officer on Wednesday, May 26, 2021 at 1:38 AM (GMT+8) after showing his dedication as a member of the Ascendancy and the Marine Corps, being a capable possible commissioned officer after he sided with The Grand Republic.

Noskin was then demoted to Corporal on Wednesday, May 26, 2021 at 4:53 AM (GMT+8), barely three hours after being promoted, for harassing his commander, StarCulper, asking for a face reveal, but when his commander refused he repeatedly ignored Star's boundaries and continued to try talking him into it. Along with this, he was exiled from the Marine Corps entirely after the entire scandal. He lasted approximately three (3) hours and fifteen (15) minutes as a commissioned officer in the rank of Warrant Officer serving for the Marine Corps under the Second Highlander Regiment. This is one of the shortest durations someone has ever achieved as a commissioned officer of any rank, and one of the first shortest durations someone has ever achieved as a warrant officer.

Opinion

Arranged by: JohnwickCulper

All claims that are not anonymous and the individual who recited it are not to be harassed, questioned, nor looked upon for their view upon said matter.

Anonymous: It was an idiot and brash choice, there are other ways than f* theft was morally wrong. Both Karolus's and Jon's old groups died. How do we know they won't fail us like they failed their OWN groups?

Anonymous: I believe we should still fully take down axis groups and axis leaders with histories of racism and work with other allied groups

Minecraftcoolboy2456: Idk what to say but i will still help all i can

Anonymous: How can you (InterstellarWar) claim a democracy after doing a coup d'état

Blueninja947: As a Sergeant Major in the 1st Regiment of Marines, I have been a part of this group for a few months. I might not have much influence or sway, but hear me out. I want to firstly say thank you to all who have allowed for the TGWA's success regardless of rank or affiliation. Whether you agree or disagree with the recent events, I think we all can agree that the drama that coincided with this political move is just petty and damaging to our group. I want to state that I am not here for any individual and I could care less about a side. I am here for The Grand Western Ascendency. I have been a part of other groups before and they do not offer the same experience as TGWA does. I believe that the majority of the members within this group would agree with me, but let's start reunifying this group and continue working towards our goals together. Let's move on from the drama and become better as individuals and as a group. We currently have over 16k+ members in our group and the future looks brighter, why ruin that now?

BritomicCulper: I believe this would be a great opportunity to introduce A three party system into the TGWA just like the V1 with the new schism

KoleHenderson: The change was for the best, the group will only prosper from here on out. With sun and steel.

DestinyOfTheCosmos: We need to reform the senate and appoint more active people then the current inactive and lack of any senate members.

Anonymous: dumb fs removed your own leader

Josef200764: The Founder should receive a former Founder role or something to show respect.

Divisionairy: I think the founder was more demanding than usual WW2 group founders, he was mean and he denied help from high officials to keep his group running, overall I think he was a bad man.

Minister of information Samsy19: The coup was not an easy decision. One we spent a whole day just deciding if it was even necessary; the days after sleep-less for most of us. At first, the council was conflicted and couldn't agree. However, after talks with nerfer in a meeting before the coup about 'discipline' and talks after the coup about finding a way to keep nerfer as the founder; it was clear that he could no longer be seen as fit to lead this group, caring only about his image and 'his work', caring little for the feelings and hard work of the supreme council.

He claimed everything was his, despite the logo and theme being a work from another, the army being made by Karolus and everything since being put together, managed and overseen by the grand council. I ask you, think to yourself for one moment, other than speeches and annexations what has Nerfer done for this group? What on the frontier is his work? What army division and reform did he work on? Can you honestly think of a significant addition he has given to TGWA?
Why should we work for a man who claims all our work, work we do for free for the love we have for the group, a man who attempts to force us to spend all of the funds and time we have given so lovingly for this group on things we don't need?

The group should be a fun place to not only take part in, but to work in. The developers should enjoy their work else what's the point? Now that we can focus on our work, development will speed up greatly and just like when the new frontier was released, it'll bring many members to the group as well as open more opportunities for our members such as armoured corps that's planned down the line as well as new maps to have fun on.

ShunrokuTaishiro opens Western Republican Army

Writer: Supervisor TaikooStandard

A counter-revolutionary organization known as The Western Republican Army, has been founded to combat the 'junta' and the Grand Republic. However many within TGR are skeptical of the organization, with many of its members being Axis leaders. The most notable of these being AleczanderRichterian, the leader of the Richterian Dynasty and Supreme Leader of Octavia.

The Interim President of WRA is ShunrokuTaishiro, he is an IJA veteran and owner of the Imperial Japanese Federation, a 1k Japanese WW2 group. IJF was formed in collaboration between Taishiro and Aleczander, with the Richters splitting off to form Korea after a failed coup against the government. Taishiro has devved for multiple groups such as Octavia itself and the LVF.

The couped Founder of the Grand Western Ascendancy, NolanCulper made his visit to the WRA, calling it 'funny'. There he held a Q&A with many Axis leaders, where they asked questions about the recent coup. Member of the Directorate of the ORD and Executive Cabinet member InterstellarWar made a post about the Founder being in the WRA discord, saying he was collaborating with Axis people. This was wrongly judged by the Cabinet member, and promptly deleted when others corrected him.

Furthermore, CO of the Marine Corps RobinCulper announced in the Allied Veterans Association discord that the WRA was an illegitimate organization and that people should stay loyal to the Consul, Consul_Alexander. The WRA also elected members for the 'National Emergency Council', one of these was SovereignWolkauf, who has since left WRA after being kicked from TGWA. WRA will most likely disrupt TGR activities once the re-released version of the Western Frontier opens to the public.

CNRA Era Change to Xinhai Revolution

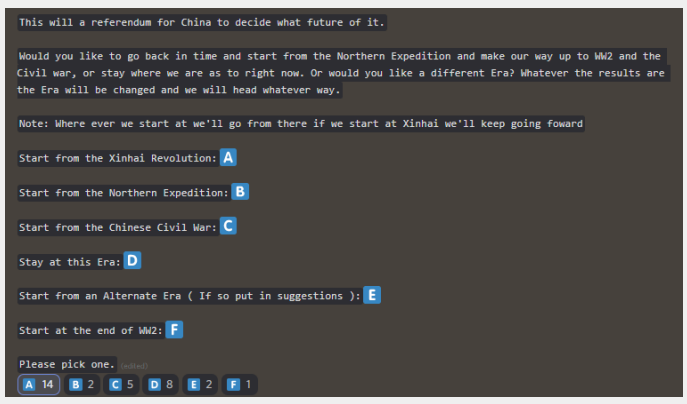
Written by Supervisor TaikooCulper

One of the Republic's allies in the Ascendancy, The Chinese National Revolutionary Army (often shortened to CNRA) has decided to change eras to the Xinhai Revolution. The Xinhai Revolution occurred in 1911, and saw the fall of Imperial dynastic rule in China. This means for the Republic that they will lose a friendly ally in Asia.

CNRA is owned and was formed by SunTakming, who has been a veteran of Allied groups as well as IJA (as Tomoyuki_Yamashieta and DrNoob00). Following the termination of his alt account, 'Chiang_KaiiShek' Sun would shortly pass over the leadership of China to Zhang (known also as Chiang_KaIShek or Yan_Xiishan).

During Zhang's tenure as leader of CNRA, he updated the group's map, Burma Campaign and faces against the Imperial Japanese Army (IJA). China was vastly outnumbered by the Japanese forces, it was clear that there was no way the Chinese resistance could compare to the Japanese.

On the 18th May, Zhang posted a poll in the announcements channel of CNRA, allowing CNRA personnel to choose what era they would change to. As quoted by Zhang himself, "there's tons of CNRA's and China's popping out and it's over shadowing us" and "no one has ever done a Xinhai group". This will allow CNRA to also get in touch with Victorian communities. However Zhang has decided to associate with WRA, a counter-coup group, making relations between him and TGR quite touchy.



Lavo's Group NDKE Shutdown

Written by Supervisor TaikooCulper

The Kerovech dynasty has shut down their project the 'New Districts of the Kerovech Empire' (NDKE) in favour of reopening the Imperial Confederacy of the Rhine. The leader of NDKE, Lavo (also known as HorstKerovech/LordKerovech today) was formerly the 2ic of Lewis (Leutgard) before splitting off and creating his own line of Axis groups.

The New Districts of the Kerovech Empire was originally formed early in 2020, following a 1984 aesthetic. NDKE died quickly following the release of the map 'Alpine Offensive'. This launch of NDKE occurred during mid-April 2021 with the map Arctic Prison/Arctic Detention Centre. This map was visited by many former TGWA personnel and the Vice Chancellor himself. NDKE, like many Kerovech games, failed to maintain constant activity during the week.

On the other hand Kerovechs have launched several Rhine groups, including the Imperial Confederation of the Rhine and the Empire of the Rhine. This iteration of the Rhine was originally launched by the Kerovechs in Autumn 2020, fighting against several groups, most notable being Octavia and EternalSoviet's Red Army (now under a different owner). Preceding this group was the New People's Revolutionary Socialist Republic (NPRSR), which fought against TGWA V1 as their primary enemy.

The Rhine is mostly likely going to be hostile towards the Grand Republic, with people like the Kerovechs despising Jon equally as Nerfer. The leadership change has no effect on their relationship with the leaders of TGR for them. This puts the Rhine as one of the prime candidates as one of the Republic's main enemies.

UFR using TGWA assets

Written by HugoHarthur

Known widely as "The Loyal General", JohnFremwell, never knows when to quit his autistic expressions to copy assets that don't belong to him. For years the self proclaimed copycat can't resist his own urge to leak maps to sell them to unknowing users across the community. His "original content" is being used for knock off groups disguised with a few minor changes to avoid plagiarism to run a business of lies and scandals.

People would assume someone with the right amount of brain cells would learn when to quit? This child certainly doesn't. Even when he proclaims he's "getting tired of this nonsense" or he wants to start "his own small original community" very recently he steals assets from TGWA's defunct map when the group shut down and prays nobody would notice any major differences. There's photographic leaks of everything stolen being reused for propaganda, vignettes and refurbishments to poorly developed maps.

With very little success in his roblox career, every group developed by John has leeched off of original ideas or stolen them completely. He still remains a cheat and a scam to those who follow him and to those who come to arms against him.

Famous Book Author Visits Town

Writer: Trainee Datatell

Despite the recent affairs of our nation, a large crowd gathered in our small town of Rocroi. The famous book author Hugo Maxwell, known for his fantasy book "War for Nitrel" that swept the nation 4 years ago, began a new book promotion following the release of his 2nd book "The Light of Brinwood". A local business owner offered his personal office as the hosting place for the event. Even though the office was small, the large crowd waited outside patiently to get signed copies of the new book. A few people commented that this has been one of the most exciting things that has happened in recent times in this town, and that they are sure that the 2nd book will be as good as the 1st one, which focused on a mythical war between two races of the mountain kingdom of Nitrel.

Baku and His Hair

Writer: Supervisor RieVictrix

It was a very sunny day. The birds were tweeting, and the town kids were playing around the town. Marshal Baku was hosting a patrol with a few soldiers. After they went out of the town, one of the soldiers asked,

"Hey, Sir, why are you wearing a hat on this sunny day?"

Baku replied with, "This is my uniform."

After some time they returned from the patrol, and headed back to the main building. Baku was tired and sweaty, so he took off his hat. Out of nowhere, hair sprouted out of his head. The soldiers were surprised that Marshal Baku even had hair. Marshal Baku himself didn't know that either, thinking that he was without hair for all these years. He decided he wanted to keep his baldness, and promptly shaved his hair off.

The Naked Officer

Writer: Supervisor RieVictrix

The old man was walking towards the grocery store. After a couple of steps the old man noticed a strange looking guy. The old man walked up to greet him, and realized he was fully naked. And it wasn't just any naked guy. This naked guy was in fact a Major General. Immediately the old man was terrified, and contacted the Military Headquarters to find out exactly what was going on. One of the MP Sergeants came by, and was horrified. He walked up to the Major General and asked him,

"Sir, why are you walking around town like this?"

"What do you mean?"

"Sir, you're fully naked."

The Major General just now realized that he was fully naked. The Military Police Sergeant arrested him on the charge of public nudity, and the Major General was shamefully brought back to base.

Drunken Robin

Writer: Supervisor RieVictrix

On the 18th of May, The Former Ascendancy, now the Grand Republic, became allies with Canada 1940's. Some of the people wanted to celebrate, so they had a party at the bar. While a few were unwilling to drink, most people drank one or two bottles of beer. The person who drank the most beer was RobinCulper, who finished 20 bottles of beer. He drank so much that he wasn't able to walk or lift his head off the table. With Robin being too drunk to move, a few of the Marines helped him back home.
